Did you ever come upon an old farmhouse?

Looking as if it might have a history? Peaceful and secure as if it had grown into and become a part of Mother Earth? Such a one has seen a heap of living loving and dying. To it came a new family to take possession in 1795 - a man and his wife and their three children. They would build and cultivate and beautify and labor cheerfully for it would be their own, their very own home.

....To this place, high on a ridge and sloping down to Peach Lake came great, great grandfather Eleazer, Mary his wife and three little ones.....with nothing on their mind but their own affairs, he loaded an ox cart, piled the family into the lumber wagon and plodded along on foot by horse and cattle. They carried bags of geese, ducks and squawking chickens.

.....The olden days were not all work, neither are the present days all play....Yes, this old home has seen a great deal of living. It has brought the blessings of happiness and contentment with it. Everything there seems to speak of years of peaceful living and as if they will be the same forever and a day.

Established in the old garden of the

Ryder Family Homestead,

Great, Great, Great Grandchildren

Betsy and John,

continue the tradition of working the land.

More about.....CSA

In Community Supported Agriculture, consumers purchase food directly from the farmers who produce it, by paying in advance for a “share” of the season’s harvest. CSA members commit to the farmers their upfront investment and shared risk. In return, the consumer reaps the freshest vegetables, herbs and flowers from a farm they know and trust.

At Ryder Farm Cottage Industries, there is no work commitment but you are free to join us in the hands on joy of harmonizing with the growing cycles. Subscribers are encouraged to stroll the gardens as if they are your own. Enjoy the ambiance and have a firsthand look at all crops under production.

Your support as a CSA member directly contributes to the preservation of this slice of Local History that is Ryder Farm
And We Are So Very Grateful

Your share of organically grown, local and freshly harvested vegetables, herbs and flowers will be ready & waiting for your Weekly Pick-Up from Wednesday 12 NOON, Till the following Tuesday

Your participation ensures that fresh organically grown produce remains locally available...

A WIN – WIN for you, the farmer and the greater community.
